ONLINE ADVERTISING – WHY OR WHY NOT?

Ms. Lam Wai Man

A Dissertation Submitted
in Partial Fulfillment of the Requirements for the Degree of Master of Arts in Communication

Supervisors: Dr. Russell B. Williams and Dr. Daryl Orris

School of Communication
Hong Kong Baptist University

Hong Kong

August, 2005
Abstract

The purpose of this point in time exploratory study is to understand how marketers and advertising agencies have sought to incorporate the Internet in their marketing strategy and media mix in Hong Kong. Also, we can interpret the current online advertising situations from the agency professionals' perspectives. Based on the in-depth interviews with ten key managers and executives regarding internet strategy, the key research question is "How does Internet strategy evolve over time, and what factors drive or hinder this evolution?" By examining issues of online advertising strategy over time, we can begin to understand how specific internet initiatives are evolving and how marketers’ and media planners can help to achieve an organization's overall strategic objectives.
Table of Contents

Acknowledgment

Abstract

1. Introduction 1

2. Problem Statement 3

3. Research Framework 9

4. Literature Review
   4.1 Internet as a Communication Medium 10
   4.2 Change of Consumer Behavior 13
   4.3 Change of Integrated Communication Strategy 14
   4.4 Confidence Level of Advertising and Marketing Practitioners in Online Advertising 17

5. Research Questions and Hypotheses 20

6. Method of Data Collection
   6.1 Secondary Research 22
   6.2 Primary Research 22
   6.3 Procedures 23

7. Findings
   7.1 Change of Media Landscape 25
   7.2 Logistic Flow of Media Selection 25
   7.3 Attitude Change of Online Advertising 26
   7.4 Why Use Online Advertising? 28
      To what extent it can help the brands?
      7.4.1 Samsung Hong Kong 29
      7.4.2 Nike Hong Kong 31
      7.4.3 Adidas Hong Kong 32
7.5 Why Not Use Online Advertising?

7.5.1 Dot com Bubble Burst 35
7.5.2 Disintegration of Media 36
7.5.3 Lack of Online Expertises 40
7.5.4 Agencies and Marketers' Confidence Level 42

7.6 Future of Online Advertising

7.6.1 Audience Fragmentation and Channel Complementary 45
7.6.2 Contextual Targeting 45

8. Conclusion 48

9. Limitation 51

10. Reference 52